Bitter Cold Lunges Out Over the U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures dropped in Arkansas today and the state braced for a full-fledged cold wave tonight.

The U. S. Weather Bureau, which issued cold wave warning for all sections of the state, said temperatures, under clearing skies, would drop to as low as five degrees above zero in northwest Arkansas.

For south Arkansas the low readings were expected to range from around 12 to 20.

The Weather Bureau said that the 24-hour highs for all sections were recorded shortly after midnight before the sharp drop began.

The temperature fell within a few hours at 10 at Fayetteville and 12 at Harrison with other north Arkansas points reporting correspondingly low readings.

By midday it was still only around 20 or below in the north-west.

The state was getting the fringe of a cold mass from Canada which has sent temperatures to far below zero in northwestern United States.

Light snow flurries were reported in the Fayetteville and Harrison areas early in the day, but soon stopped.

The Weather Bureau didn't forecast any more moisture until Thursday when it said there was a chance rain in south Arkansas.

Highs for Wednesday were forecast at from 20 to 30 with Thursday due to be not so cold.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blanket of bitter cold weather lunged out of Canada and sent temperatures below zero today in the western mountain country.

The thermometer registered -31 at Havre, Mont., at 1 a.m.

Temperatures ranged in the teens from Oklahoma northeastward through northern Missouri, Iowa and into the upper Great Lakes area. South of this line, the readings moderated with rain, sleet and snow. In the Gulf States, readings were in the 70s.

A low pressure center over southern Illinois and another in the Kentucky-Tennessee area created havoc in the weather around the Midwest.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for Wisconsin, northern Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota and northwestern Illinois, with up to 10 inches predicted for Iowa.

Rain mixed with snow glazed thoroughfares throughout northern Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. Rain also fell from central Texas northeastward through the lower Mississippi Valley into Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Unidentified Planes Bomb UN Airport

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Unidentified aircraft attacked Elisabethville Airport four times before dawn today, dropping 26 bombs without damaging U.N. installations, the U.N. command announced.

The U.N. headquarters in the Katanga capital also came under heavy attack during the night, the U.N. spokesman said, from Katanga mortar batteries located on a ridge west of the headquarters building.

The spokesman said he did not know the origin or type of the aircraft that attacked the airport, or if more than one plane made the attack. Bombs were dropped over a five-hour period, beginning at midnight.

(The Katanga mission in Brussels said the United Nations attacked President Moise Tshombe's residence, a veritable stronghold in Elisabethville. It was not clear whether the attack referred to shelling or an attack by planes.)

Two Indian Gurkha troops were killed and one wounded in the attack on the U.N. headquarters, the United Nations announced. It said this brought U.N. casualties in the Katanga operation to 10 dead, 37 wounded and 13 missing.

Katanga casualties are unknown, but Gen. Sean McKeown, the Irish commander of U.N. forces in the Congo, estimated them at 50 to 60 dead.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Indian Brig. I.J. Rikhye, acting Secretary-General U. Thant, said the attack was "a serious challenge to the United Nations."

Moscow Asks Custody of NATO Officer

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government demanded today that the United States hand over West German Gen. Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the permanent North Atlantic Treaty Organization military committee in Washington, for trial in Moscow as a war criminal.

The demand was made in a note delivered today to the U.S. Embassy and publicized before cameras and bright lights at a Foreign Ministry news conference.

Heusinger was accused of war crimes, crimes against the peace and crimes against humanity.

The Soviet government charged that Heusinger, who was chief of operations for the German general staff until the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler, "organized bloody reprisals against the civilian population" in the Soviet Union and that he issued instructions for punitive detachments "which sanctioned every possible atrocity in regard to the peaceful population."

Michael Kharlamov, press director of the Foreign Ministry, told the news conference Heusinger is now quartered in the Pentagon.

In Bonn, the West German government rejected the Soviet accusations as completely false and said it would never consent to his being turned over to Soviet authorities. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said the government had cleared Heusinger long ago and "this is just another Soviet propaganda move—another in a long series directed against West Germany in an attempt to blacken our reputation and alienate our allies in this time of international crisis."

Heusinger was arrested by the Western Allies after World War II, interned until 1948, but never brought to trial on war crimes charges. He has been a frequent Soviet target since he became the first chief of staff of West Germany's new armed forces in 1955.

Potential of River Basin Cited

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Vision and vigor are two of the necessary ingredients in building the vast Arkansas Basin Project, Lt. Gen. W. K. Wilson Jr., chief of Army Engineers, said at a meeting of the Arkansas Basin Association here Monday night.

Wilson said 1970 is the expected date of completion for the project, and that date sets "a challenging pace for the development."

More than 40 per cent of the bank stabilization and channel rectification work will be completed this year due to an $80 million appropriation, he said. And 30 per cent of the Dardanelle Dam project will be completed by the end of the year.

Ollough Dam is almost finished, Keystone and Eufaula will be well over half complete, he added. Establishment of port authorities by Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Van Buren and Gillett have shown foresight, he said. He praised the people of the area for their support of the project.

The banquet was in Wilson's honor. It was his first visit to Arkansas since taking over the top engineer post May 19. While in the state, he inspected a Titan II missile silo near Searcy. He was to view the Dardanelle Lock and Dam on the Arkansas River today en route to Fort Smith for a luncheon sponsored by the River Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Besides industrial benefits, Wilson said, the basin project will provide a continuous series of lakes for recreation purposes all along the river's 450-mile length.

He said the engineers are re-vamping their entire program to make it more responsive to current and long-range needs. "One of the steps I have taken is to direct that water resources development be employed as an effective tool to stimulate economic growth," he said.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus presented him with an Arkansas Traveler certificate.

MOP Wants to Cut Service

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Missouri Pacific's request to discontinue four of its five passenger trains operating between Memphis and Hot Springs has been taken under consideration by the state Commerce Commission and a decision is not expected for several weeks.

In a hearing before the commission Monday, the railroad said it lost $3,250,000 on passenger service in Arkansas in 1960 and $188,799 on trains 219, 202, 331 and 328 which it wants to eliminate. One round trip daily would remain between Memphis and Hot Springs.

E. T. Paul of North Little Rock, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and Earle city officials opposed the proposed move. Paul said railroad management favors freight operations over passenger service since the profit is higher. He said in the last 2½ years, 14 trains have been cut off in Arkansas with the loss of hundreds of jobs, and this has had a damaging effect on the state's economy.

Ministers Again Try to Tighten Unity on Allied Berlin Policy

By TOM OCHILTREE

PARIS (AP)—The Western foreign ministers pursued their efforts to tighten unity on Berlin today amid signs the European Allies are sharply questioning the kind of leadership the United States is giving the Western alliance.

Diplomatic sources said the four ministers had gotten nowhere near a common policy on the issue of whether and under what circumstances the West should enter negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin.

The same informants said Washington's line on the complex Congo problem has produced a bitter taste in London and Paris.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his British, French and West German colleagues met for slightly more than two hours in the Quai d'Orsay to talk about Berlin. Delegation spokesmen declined to indicate what development. One conference source said no important progress was made.

However, West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder, referring to a communiqué that will wrap up the meeting, told newsmen "I think you'll hear something satisfactory tonight."

President Charles de Gaulle was reported still resisting Allied efforts to draw him into joint negotiations with the Soviet Union about West Berlin's future. But French officials said he does not intend to block another American-led attempt to come to terms with Moscow.

The ministerial talks were conducted with unusual secrecy. Outside the conference room a was whispered that a crisis of confidence in American leadership was building up. That appeared to be an overstatement for two reasons:

Ultimately the Allies have nowhere else to look for long-term leadership.

Any public admission of quarreling in the alliance could only comfort the Soviet bloc in the long run.

However, an American source said the policies the Soviets are following "tend to keep us together." Premier Khrushchev himself "seems to have been particularly belligerent lately."

On example is the Soviet Union's demand today that the United States hand over German Gen. Adolf Heusinger for trial on war crimes charges. Heusinger is chairman of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's permanent military committee which normally works in Washington.

As a final headache, the United States has been trying for years to get France to integrate all her forces into the NATO alliance. De Gaulle has refused to do so.

Senator Says Loose Talk Dangerous

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said "loose talk" about alleged disloyalty of Americans, such as put out by the John Birch Society, is dangerous and self-defeating to the nation.

Fulbright said it can be generally assumed that Americans are anti-communist and that he objects to statements by Robert H. Welch Jr., the Birch Society founder, that great numbers of journalists, teachers and clergymen are communists or communist sympathizers.

He said the claim that "the State Department is full of them (communists)" is irresponsible. The nation's main problem is a lack of wisdom, he said, not a lack of patriotism. Fulbright made the remarks in a speech to joint civic clubs.

The senator said the relation between individual states and the federal government may lack harmony, but he criticized those who cast suspicion on the federal-state relation without being specific.

Governor Is Silent About His Future

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus parried news conference questions about his political future today.

The governor turned aside such questions by predicting that "harmony would prevail until after the sugar bowl game."

He then turned football pundit and forecast that the Arkansas Razorbacks will beat Alabama in New Orleans Jan. 1.

Faubus said he had nothing on which to base this prediction except "my confidence in the Razorbacks and (coach) Frank Broyles."

Asked to pursue the harmony prediction, Faubus said he was talking about "general harmony" and not specifically about political harmony.

Faubus declined to be drawn into an argument with Pulaski County Representative J. H. Cottrell, who said over the weekend that Faubus had lied in a speech last week when he said parties who filed a lawsuit contesting the 1961 omnibus law did not have the best interests of Pulaski County at heart. Cottrell filed the suit.

Faubus said, "perhaps Mr. Cottrell is mistaken about what I said. I said I believed that they did not have the interests of the county at heart. I do believe that, and I did not lie about it."

Parts of State to Get Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It snowed again today in the northwest portion of the state, and the northeast can expect some late today or early Wednesday.

Fayetteville, with a low of 14 degrees, reported snow flurries.

Light snow was reported at Harrison, where the temperature dropped to 14 degrees.

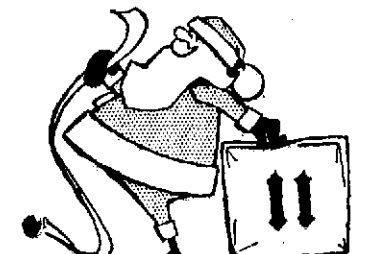

Other lows over the state included 17 at Fort Smith, 20 at Dardanelle and 23 at Arkadelphia. State Police say highways are free of ice but slippery due to rain.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will be in the mid-teens tonight.

Medical Care Available to 70,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 70,000 old people in Arkansas who are not on old age assistance have become eligible for federal assistance in paying doctor bills through the new Kerr-Mills medical care program.

So said one of the authors of the bill, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., in a meeting of the Pulaski County Health and Welfare Planning Council here Monday.

Mills said the program may not be the final answer to meeting the increasing expense of illnesses, but it was the only one Congress was willing to approve and it is a first step in the right direction.

Mills sponsored the bill in the House and Sen. Robert Kerr, D-Okl., sponsored it in the Senate.

It is a voluntary program but 21 states, including Arkansas, have begun participating since the bill became law Sept. 13, 1960 and seven other states have the necessary legislation to participate, Kerr said.

Arkansas has 195,000 persons 65 years old or over and 56,000 of these can receive medical help because they are on old-age assistance. But 70,000 are eligible for the Kerr-Mills program aid.

Readers Disagree Over Separate Lives for Twins

By HELEN WOREN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I married a look-alike twin and soon found out that I had also married his twin sister. Rather, we have shared every joy, every secret and every sorrow. Neither of us has tried to dominate or destroy the other. I would appreciate it deeply if you would print this letter and substantiate the statement that "It is an accepted fact among psychologists that identical twins are always in conflict, whether they admit it or not." If this devotion between my twin and I is "conflict" then may God have mercy on those who hate!

As for the twin who wrote you the letter which provoked this discussion, may I suggest that she let herself become closer to her twin, who is her own flesh and blood, instead of worrying about a boy who will most likely mean nothing to either of them a year from now. If she does she will find opened to her one of the most beautiful, satisfying, enduring and closest relationships life has to offer. —A Devoted Twin and Glad of It, Pawtucket, R. I.

Dear Devoted Twin: I appreciate the devoted spirit in which your letter was written but, in essence, it only confirms the belief of Despairing Wife, that identical twins, if left together, will absorb one another to the exclusion of all others—even a wife, or husband, and in that sense either dominate, or be dominated.

It is evident, from your letter, that if you did marry, your twin would still be first in your heart. And if she wasn't, there would be conflict! You are, figuratively speaking, like Despairing Wife's husband, married to your twin. And this is not normal. My statement that identical twins are in conflict is based on first hand observation, backed up by my friend, the college president, who is the mother of identical twins and the wife of a physician. She loved both twins equally and it is only because she wanted to see them grow up into normal, healthy, happy human beings that she separated them as youngsters. I'll be glad to hear from other readers on this.

South Not Alarmed by New Ruling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern officials generally found little, if any, significance in the U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning the conviction of 16 Garrett Sr., 50, and Prince Garrett demonstrators, but Negro leaders viewed it as the dawn of a new day for their race.

Jack Grenillion, attorney general of Louisiana where the case originated, said it seemed to him Monday's unanimous ruling was based merely on grounds of lack of evidence.

"The constitutionality of Louisiana's so-called sit-in laws has not been passed on and so far as the state is concerned, they are valid legislation," he said.

"The Negroes, all students of Southern University at Baton Rouge, were convicted under a Louisiana law making it a breach of the peace to 'act in such a manner as to unreasonably disturb or alarm the public.'"

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who delivered the court's opinion, said there was no evidence the Negroes "disturbed the peace, either by outwardly boisterous conduct, or by passive conduct likely to cause a public disturbance."

The ruling left unanswered broad constitutional questions raised by the sit-ins, including freedom of expression and equal protection.

The Southern Regional Council, a biracial group with headquarters in Atlanta, estimated 3,700 sit-in demonstrators have been arrested in the South in the past two years. It figured "Freedom Riders" arrests at 500.

Arrests have been made under breach of the peace law in Louisiana, Florida, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Texas. Anti-trespass laws have been used to try and curb the sit-ins in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Maryland.

The Congress of Racial Equality, sponsor of most of the rides and a number of sit-ins, issued a statement in New York hailing the Supreme Court decision as the dawning of a new day for Negroes.

Negro Tosses Son, Self Into River

MEMPHIS (AP)—Police said a Negro man apparently threw his young son into the Mississippi River Monday before jumping from the Memphis-Arkansas bridge himself.

Arkansas State Trooper John Haynes said the deaths of Prince Garrett Sr., 50, and Prince Garrett Jr., 5, were listed as murder suicides.

Two witnesses said they saw a man, later identified as Garrett, throw a "kicking" bundle off the bridge and then leap over the rail on the Arkansas side of the bridge just beyond the Memphis City limit.

Identification was made through Garrett's abandoned car and his billfold and clothing left neatly folded in the back seat.

Haynes said the witnesses could not identify the "bundle" as young Garrett, but that it was presumed to be the child when officers were unable to locate him later.

Mrs. Garrett told police her husband was in excellent health and had no pressing problems.

Wants Nuclear Testing Resumed

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says he is so concerned over whether U.S. nuclear weapons actually will work that he wants testing resumed in the atmosphere.

"We don't know, actually, if an intercontinental ballistic missile will work with an atomic warhead," he said Monday. "We've never tried one."

Will Take Her Share of Guilt

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - "I am not going to let my husband go to jail alone when it is my fault. If he is guilty, so am I."
Mrs. John F. Byrne, attractive mother of four, made that statement Monday after insisting on pleading guilty to a federal charge of evading $5,670 in income taxes for 1956-57.

Byrne, developer of a chain of restaurants, and his wife were indicted April 3.

Calvin Hamilton, assistant U.S. district attorney, offered to drop the charge against Mrs. Byrne if Byrne would plead guilty. Mrs.
Byrne refused although her husband pleaded guilty.

"I have always kept the books in our tax matters," she said. "I kept all the records and I am not going to let my husband take the blame without me."

Judge Richard M. Duncan said he would sentence the couple Jan. 5. Maximum penalty for each is $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

The Byrnes discussed the matter Monday night at home in the presence of their children, Bill, 20; Jan, 16; Ellen, 14, and Eddie,
10.

Mrs. Byrne said she and her husband pleaded guilty on the advice of their attorney because they had no records to show they didn't owe the tax and that they offered to pay if it was owed.

Chapter XXVI

"But it's Philip you're after," said Margaret persistently. After not interested in; the choice of words was instinctive, because in spite of his ease-gone, now-and his almost musical voice, this man was a hunter.

"In a way, yes."

"You can't be after somebody in a way," said Margaret irrita-bly. "You are or you aren't."

The little silence was taunt, something bent almost to the breaking point. She realized with a surprise that made her flush that it was exactly because Kincaid did know about her past attachment to Philip that he didn't trust her. Did he think she would refuse to believe whatever he had to say, and find some means of warning Philip? Margaret said through stiff lips, "You can tell me. It can't possibly be worse than what I'm thinking."

At that he turned, and at something in her face he made up his mind. An edge of Margaret's attention registered his silent wish that it were a respectable hour for a drink. He said, "I don't suppose Byrne told either of you he had been married before."

He spoke suddenly brusque, impersonal, and bigamy. It seemed just now the most trifling of offenses, but before Margaret's heart had time to lift Kincaid said with a quiet finality, "Twice.
Once while he was in college,
again three years ago."

"There was something infinitely chilling about the use of the word
'again,'" Margaret knew at once that Philip had not divorced his wives, but she could only gaze at Kincaid through the pounding heat of her body, and wait.

"He seems to be unlucky. He was left a widower both times," said Kincaid, still in an almost casual voice. "His only consolation being that both women had a little something to leave him.
Margaret . . . I knew I shouldn't . . . Margaret"

Margaret hadn't fainted; had in fact, met the shock with the head but expected crash of a towering, watched for wave. She said helplessly, "I'm just - I think I'm coming down with something," and felt his hand on her forehead, surprisingly gentle.

"What doctor did you have for Hilary?"

"Wimple. But I can't -"
"You've got to."

She heard his voice at the telephone, and then it dimmed as she went, shoulder-blades shrinking against the rippling cold, in search of a sweater.

She said to Kincaid, in the library, "What are we going to do?
Are you sure?"

Foolish, blindly hopeful questions, when her own mind had been leading her to just this unthinkable place in time-but Kincaid answered her soberly.

"Have I proof, you mean? No, if I had, the police could have taken over long ago. As it is, Byrne could sue for false arrest."

"We have to let Kincaid -"
"You said they had a marked tour book, and that your sister was marked, you must have seen it. Not every place has a swimming pool. I've got a tour book in the car, let's look at it."

In the moments that he was gone, Margaret sat perfectly still, willing Kincaid to remain what she was through the veil of fever, simply someone who had to be found. Mrs. Foale had dropped into dimness, so had Julia Garcia.
She would have to find out, later, why Kincaid was so sure Philip married women for their money and just now she would close her eyes and try to recapture the tour book.

There had been a few little x's in the margins and a photo at the bottom of a left-hand page. Something with palms.

The front door opened and closed and Kincaid came in with the tour book. Margaret looked up at him. "What happened to the - his first two wives?"

Kincaid glanced away. "Maybe nothing," he said. "That's the trouble. Maybe he just gravitates to women who have money of their own and something wrong with them. The first was a diabetic and died of insulin shock.
The second had a heart attack - she'd had rheumatic fever as a child and wasn't very strong."

Cornelia had $50,000 and nothing wrong with her - except that she was just over a severe bout with what had been diagnosed, by telephone, as flu. The recurrent type; the newspapers had warned about that.

"Here's Arizona," said Kincaid, deliberately brusque after a glance at her.

It wasn't quite the hopeless task it had seemed at first. Margaret found the photograph of a motel under palms in the Arizona section, and thought she remembered that two of the x's on that page had been near the top, one close to the bottom. She was right;
those three had swimming pools

Remakes of Old Movies Offered

By BOB THOMAS
AP MovieTV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Two of Hollywood's alltime great directors are offering remakes of their old movies for the holiday trade.

This might be viewed as a sad commentary on the state of Hollywood's creativity. Failing to uncover enough new material, the studios are betting millions, if not their corporate futures, on reworkings of such already told tales as "Mutiny on the Bounty,"
"Cleopatra," "The Four Horsemen," "State Fair," "King of Kings" and the like.

Going along with the trend are three-time Oscar winners William Wyler ("Mrs. Miniver," "Best Years of Our Lives," "Ben-Hur") and Frank Capra ("It Happened
One Night," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "You Can't Take It With You.")

Wyler reached back to 1941 for "These Three." This was the expurgated version of the Lillian Hellman play, "The Children's Hour." Wyler has returned to the original title and theme: How the reckless rumors of lesbianism can ruin the lives of two school teachers.

The result is not for children, but it can be appreciated by adults as an intelligent exercise in human emotion. As with Wyler films, "The Children's Hour" is beautifully acted, reflecting thought and taste.

Porkers Take on Oklahoma State Tonight

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Jerry Rogers, a natural floor leader and a good shot from his guard position, returns to the Arkansas starting lineup tonight when the Porkers take on Coach Hank Iba's Oklahoma State Cowboys here.

Arkansas Coach Glen Rose calls Oklahoma State a darkhorse contender in the Big Eight Conference race, and says his inexperienced Hogs will have to play their best game so far to win.

Arkansas is 2-1 after a 68-61 victory over North Texas State last Saturday night. Oklahoma State has won all three of its games and is the favorite tonight. The Cowboys are led by Cecil Epperly, Eddie Bunch and Moe Iba son of the coach, who have played as a unit since their high school days in Stillwater.

With Rogers on the Arkansas starting lineup will be guard Jerry Carlton, forwards Tommy Boyer and Larry Wolford and center Jim Wilson.

Wolford leads the team in rebounding with 25 and Carlton leads in scoring with 53 points, or an average of 17.6 per game.

Wolford has scored 41, Wilson 27, Boyer 24, Rogers 22, Larry Hogue 16 and Skippy Coffman 11.

The Hogs have a tough non-conference row this week. They take on Tulsa Thursday night here, then go Little Rock Saturday night to face Mississippi.

It will be their only central Arkansas appearance of the season.

Liberty Bowl Also on Tap for Saturday

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's main worry as the Liberty Bowl football game approaches is whether Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis is getting enough sleep.

Davis, an All-America halfback and scoring leader of the Syracuse team, has missed several practices in order to receive his various post-season honors.

"They call him at all hours of the day or night," Schwartzwalder said. The calls presumably include professional football offers, since Davis was a first-round draft choice by both pro leagues. "I hope they let him alone in Philadelphia before the game," the coach said.

Davis will be Schwartzwalder's main weapon Saturday against the passing of Miami's George Mira and the Hurricane's rugged interior line.

Syracuse also has an aerial attack of its own, featuring the tosses of Dave Sarette to John Mackey, Walt Sweeney and Davis.

Miami is a "well-coached ball club and as tough as any we've met this year," Schwartzwalder said.

Both teams have 7-3 records. Miami lost three games while Mira, a sensational sophomore quarterback, was injured. Syracuse lost to Penn State, Maryland and Notre Dame, the latter in the controversial field-goal game.

Coach Almost Lost Game for Bearcats

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

An exuberant coach whose sideline enthusiasm has helped fire his team to the nation's longest winning streak almost brought the string to an end Monday night by his sideline fervor.

Cincinnati, currently ranked second nationally and the defending NCAA champion, was behind 28-27 at the half and the one-point deficit stemmed from a technical foul called on Jucker for an over-enthusiastic protest of an official's decision. Dave Reed had cashed it in.

Drake swept ahead by ten, 52-42, with five minutes left. Cincinnati cut the margin with a basket, then another technical was called on Jucker. Again Drake converted, this one by Billy Hahn with 4:09 left.

The fiery, quick-handed Bearcats then staged their whirlwind finish, outscoring the Bulldogs 16-6 down the stretch. Larry Shingleton made two interceptions. Tony Yates and Paul Hogue made one apiece. All four steals resulted in baskets. Hogue dumped in another shot with 41 seconds remaining for a 58-57 lead, and clinched it with two free throws at the 11-second mark. The 6-foot-9 pivotman ended up high point man with 27.

Drake Coach Maurice John also was called on a technical, but Ron Bonham missed on the foul try for the Bearcats.

Sixth-ranked Purdue was upended by Wichita 71-68. Seventh-ranked Duke smothered Clemson 89-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference rout.

Two outside gunners, 5-10 Ernie Moore and 5-11 Lenny Vaneman, did the job against Purdue by clicking on 10 of 16 shots from the field. All-America Terry Dischinger totaled 36 points for the losing Boilermaker.

Duke's Blue Devils won their fourth in a row, pulling away from Clemson early and building up a 16-point lead by halftime. Art Heyman was high for Duke with 26 points.

Tom Bolyard's scoring spurt in the closing minutes carried Indiana over North Carolina 76-70. Ernie Wilhoit broke the final tie in the close game with a pair of free throws for the Hoosiers.

Bolyard put it away with a layup, two foul shots and a 3-pointer at the final buzzer.

Kentucky got a 30-point performance out of sophomore star Cotton Nash in an 86-77 decision over St. Louis. Hubie White collected 20 of his 29 points in the second half, leading Villanova to its fifth victory in a row, 74-53 over Iowa State.

Arizona State university clouted Kansas' fading Jayhawks 72-58. Larry Armstrong, a 5-9 backcourt man, scored 20 points for the Sun Devils, who won their fourth straight and handed Kansas its fourth straight loss. Dave Debuschere pumped in 35 points as Massachusetts beat Xavier (Ohio) 88-73, outs.

Both Arkansas and Alabama will work out at their home bases until Christmas. The Crimson Tide will reconvene at Biloxi, Miss., and the Hogs will be at Baton Rouge, La., after the Christmas holidays for last-minute work-outs.

Hope Teams in Twin Win Over Arkadelphia

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats and Bobkittens remained unbeaten last night as they took twin wins over Arkadelphia at Jones Field House. In the opener, the Kittens trounced the Baby Badgers 31-18 and then the Cats won a thriller 46-38.

At Spring Hill, the Hope Junior Girls continued their winning ways by breaking the hosts' undefeated string 30-28, while the Sr. Lady Cats were edged out 35-33, with the "B" team losing 55-36.

The Bobcats held the visitors to a 6-9 tie in the first quarter, but pulled out front 23-16 at the half. Leading 36-20 going into the final quarter, the Bobcats were confused by a Badger full court press and their lead dwindled to six points. In the final minutes, Hope added six more points to their lead and after four Arkadelphia tallies, came out front in their fourth consecutive win 46-38.

David Porterfield was the big gun for Hope, both on offense and defense. He led the Cats with 19 points and held Arkadelphia's star, Butch Stoker to but 4 points. Mac McLarty sank 9, while T-Bob Roberts collected 8. Jackie Russell scored 5, Danny Hatfield 3, and Jeffery Powell 2 to complete the scoring.

The Kittens led 7-6 in the first period, but burst to a 19-13 lead at the half. They outscored the visitors 12-5 in the second half to take their third consecutive win 31-18. Jerry Burnett was high with 12, followed by Jordan with 8, Ingram with 6 and McNatt with 5.

Shirley Smith sank 7 field goals and 6 free throws for 20 points in the Junior Girls' win over the Spring Hill Juniors. Hope trailed 6-5 in the first quarter, but edged out front 16-15 at the half. By outscoring the hosts 14-13 in the second half, the little ladies took a 30-28 victory. Annatt Hatfield and Phyllis Martin scored five each for Hope, and the other participants were Cissie Ellis, Carolyn Hamm, Gayle McGill, Ann Watkins, Jenny Waters and Regina Smith.

In the "B" game Spring Hill held decisive leads throughout the game, leading 31-15 at the half. George Jones was high for Hope with 6, while Reinhardt, Brown, Wassell and Hughes had 4 each. McDowell and Caldwell scored 3 each and Thrash, Marcum and Baber took 2 each. Ronnie Garner and Clinton Kidd had 13 each for the visitors.

In the Senior Girls game a hapless Hope team was upended after holding a 19-17 halftime lead.

This capable Hope team needs confidence if they are to break into the win column, because they have more ability than shown by their 0-5 record. Janice Lloyd was high for Hope with 17 to bring her season to 51, and Melba Calhoun scored 16 for a season total of 65. Lera Beth Calhoun had 2, and Peggy Duke scored 1. Cox led Spring Hill with 20.

Tonight the Sr. Girls travel to Nashville for an invitational tournament. The Bobcats and Kittens will work out at their home bases until Christmas. The Crimson Tide will reconvene at Biloxi, Miss., and the Hogs will be at Baton Rouge, La., after the Christmas holidays for last-minute work-outs.

Kansas and Rice Meet Saturday

By CHARLES GREEN

HOUSTON (AP) — At least seven of the Bluebonnet Bowl football players from Kansas and Rice start a busy holiday season Saturday.

They will be in the first of six postseason games that take them in as many different directions.

The business at hand, Saturday's game, is the third in the bowl's history. It will be nationally televised (CBS) starting at 1 p.m. (CST).

Roland Jackson, Rice's All Southwest Conference fullback, will be the busiest player on either team. He closes his Rice career in his home stadium in the Bluebonnet.

Jackson has three other postseason dates — the North-South Shrine game in Miami, Fla., Christmas night, the Blue-Gray All Star game in Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 30 and the Senior Bowl in Mobile Jan. 6.

Johnny Burrell, a Rice end, has three extra dates this year—the Saturday game, the North-South game and the Hula Bowl Jan. 7.

Rice tackle George Karam plays in the Shrine game. Halfback Butch Blume, the leading scorer in the Southwest Conference, plays in the Blue-Gray game, as does Larry Anthony, a guard.

John Hadl, Kansas' triple threat quarterback whose running is supposed to be better than his passing, will show the pros his stuff in the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco.

Curtis McClintock, Kansas' right halfback and Hadl's rival for the spotlight, will also play in San Francisco.

No Ruling on Constitution

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana Attorney General Jack Gremlion said today the U. S. Supreme Court's overruling of Baton Rouge sit-in demonstrators' convictions did not test the constitutionality of the state's sit-in laws.

Gremlion, contacted at a meeting in New Orleans, had this comment when informed of the decision: "It appears from the press quotes of the decision that the court overruled these convictions on grounds of lack of evidence. The constitutionality of Louisiana's so-called sit-in laws have not been passed on and as far as the state is concerned, they are still valid legislation."

Two very tough squads from Nashville for a pair of games at Jones Field House with the first starting at 7 p.m.

Copters to Be Used on Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Army service troops today began readying some 40 U.S. combat helicopters for use against the Viet Cong rebels.

The helicopters, with nearly 400 U.S. Army pilots and ground crewmen, arrived in Saigon Monday aboard the converted U.S. carrier Core. They reportedly will be ready to start flying missions in about two weeks.

The U. S. crews manning the helicopters will fly Vietnamese troops and equipment to attack positions when Communist rebels are sighted. The Vietnamese ground forces have had great difficulty trapping the roving Viet Cong units because of the lack of speedy transport over the jungle.

It will be the first time U.S. personnel have flown such missions against the rebel forces. The helicopters are part of expanded U.S. military aid to South Viet Nam agreed upon a week ago.

Van Buren to Vote on Bonds

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—Van Buren residents vote today on a proposed $809,500 bond issue for sewer extension and improvements.

The city's sewer system has been condemned by the state Board of Health. The state board has directed the city to construct an efficient, citywide sanitary sewer system.

If the proposal is approved, the city will receive a federal grant of $172,000 to aid in financing the construction. Estimated cost of the project is $981,500.
